DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The reply filed on 03/21/05 consists of cancellation of all original claims 1-31, addition of new claims 32-40 and remarks related to rejection of claims. The claims are not allowable as explained below.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 32-40 are objected to because of the following informalities: "multiply" should be deleted. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 37-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The independent claim 37 recites an additional interposed sacrificial electrical connector which has no antecedent basis in the specification.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2839

6. Claims 37-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

7. Claims 37-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted elements are: The independent claim 37 recites an additional interposed sacrificial electrical connector but no interposed sacrificial electrical connector has been introduced before.

Note: It has been assumed that there is only one interposed sacrificial electrical connector.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

9. Claims 32 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Judge et al. (2004/0005818).

Judge (Figure 3) shows a wiring harness having a sacrificial electrical connector 70 with multiple male contacts 70A-70C and female contacts 70AA-70CC interposed between first and second electrical connectors 60 and 80 normally interconnected with one another.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 33-36 and 38-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Judge et al. (2004/0005818).

Judge shows all the features of these claims as described in Paragraph 4 above except (a) tracking the number of connection/disconnection and removal of the interposed sacrificial connector after certain number of connection/disconnection, (b) breaking off a contact to reduce the number of contacts, (c) using only one side of the sacrificial connector for multiple connection/disconnection, and (d) a locking system to restrict the use of only one side of the sacrificial connector for multiple connection/disconnection. Such features are common knowledge, well known and widely used in the art of electrical connectors. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the instant invention to provide these features to the Judge's wire harness because this would provide a means of record keeping and a means to restrict access to the use of one side of the sacrificial connection as is well known and involves only routine skill in the art.

Response to Arguments

12. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hein et al. (5490785).

14. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
